

BRECKONS WILL DRAW THE BILLS

When the Republican commission which has in charge the drafting of the county and city bills for submission to the legislature at its next session meets today, it will be to confer with a new acting secretary. The departure of J. G. Pratt who had in charge the work of drawing up the bills, for Washington for the legislative session, left the committee with only a bare skeleton on its hands. As a result United States District Attorney Breckons, who is from the same state and therefore best qualified to fill in the points not yet arranged, has been engaged to clothe the bones. Mr. Breckons has been of the very first rank as a legislator, being a member of the legislature in Wyoming, which state passed through the stage now occupied by this Territory, and he has had a deal of experience in handling the very matters now under discussion here. As well, he has been engaged in the interpretation of the laws which were passed for the government of the various political subdivisions.

Federal Court Notes

Judge Estee granted the defendants fifteen days additional in which to answer the complaint of Mrs. Catherine Piltz vs. Wilder's Steamship Company.

Daniel Logan, as trustee, in the Austin Publishing Company bankruptcy case, has asked for an allowance of $50 per month for two months' work in operating the plant. He sets out that he has but $400 in assets to distribute, aside from the preferred claims already paid, and that his commissions on that sum amount to but $12.

The Medical Examiners.

Now it is reported that the appointment of medical examiners by Treasurer Cooper is illegal, and that the Governor is the appointing power. There is also a provision making the Superintendent of Public Works the proper party to appoint the examiners, and the general mix-up will probably be submitted to the courts.
